Extend your knowledge by concentrating on the latest management practices and strategies as they relate to the bioengineering field.

Study is full-time, combining lectures and interactive discussions, case studies, and site visits to Southern California corporations and other places of professional interest. You'll benefit from the opportunity to network with professionals from around the world, with maximum exposure to American business practices as they apply to the bioengineering field.

Build on your biotechnology or bioengineering education or interest and prepare yourself for upward mobility. Establish a foundation of leadership skills as they apply to the industry. Choose 12 units of specified course electives and understand the spectrum of new bioengineering topics. Demonstrate your potential in either an internship or a portfolio-building workshop and find yourself confident and ready to enter the American workforce.
