STRUCTURE YOUR FUTURE FOR SUCCESS

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN ENGINEERING MANAGEMENT

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN

- Various fundamental and contemporary skills related to leadership and management
- Special topics in engineering based on electives of your choosing
- Methods to refining your professional image through your portfolio and personal marketing skills
- Best practices for application of your management skills through an internship at an active business

Extend your knowledge by concentrating on the latest management practices and strategies as they relate to engineering fields. Study is full-time, combining lectures and interactive discussions, case studies, and site visits to Southern California corporations and other places of professional interest. You'll benefit from the opportunity to network with professionals from around the world, with maximum exposure to business practices as they apply to engineering fields.

Establish your capacity for leadership in the engineering field, and stabilize your understanding of management skills in an American workplace. Build on that foundation with aspects related to engineering, including branding and marketing, technology trends, and cultural diversity. Further your engineering knowledge with up to 13 units of your choice of engineering electives and apply your collection of skills in a quarter-long internship at a corporation or business.
